Workshop Overview and Objectives

The 2nd Transnational Project Meeting of the BeCom initiative took place from the 4th to the 6th of August 2025 in Belgrade, Serbia. The workshop agenda was designed to provide updates on project activities, facilitate the exchange of best practices in green building renovations, and plan forthcoming collaborative efforts. Central to the meeting was the exploration of sustainable, regenerative community development aligned with the Quintuple Helix Model.

Workshop Overview and Objectives

The workshop featured a dynamic programme combining presentations, interactive tools, and expert showcases. Highlights included detailed presentations of green building best practices. Participants engaged with an innovative interactive tool developed to explore green construction solutions, enhancing collaborative learning.

Cultural Exploration and Community Engagement

Beyond the project-focused sessions, the meeting incorporated cultural enrichment with a guided walking tour through Belgrade's historic old town, showcasing architectural landmarks representative of the New European Bauhaus ethos. This programme element allowed participants to tangibly connect the theoretical frameworks discussed with real-world examples of heritage and sustainable urban design. The workshop concluded with open discussions to consolidate plans and reinforce the collaborative spirit vital for the continued success of the BeCom project.
